Richard Marks : The Medieval Stained Glass of Northamptonshire (Corpus Vitrearum Medii Aevi: Great Britain) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Medieval Stained Glass of Northamptonshire (Corpus Vitrearum Medii Aevi: Great Britain):

This first detailed study of the county's medieval stained glass contains over 100 entries, ranging in date from Anglo-Saxon times to the mid-sixteenth century. It is lavishly illustrated in both color and black and white and has much to offer everyone interested in medieval history, religion, and visual culture.
